PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Happy New Year.

2007 was a very busy year for our Association. With great efforts from all the Committee especially the Youth Subcommittee, our branch organised a very successful Easter Tournament and many other events last year.

We have a strong and vibrant committee with subcommittees covering different areas of our Association and membership - building, newsletter, membership/social, children, youth and adult & elderly. This structure has been set up under the leadership of our immediate past-president Peter Sew Hoy who is now our Chairman.

I'd like to especially welcome those who recently joined the Children's Subcommittee. We are grateful that as parents of young children you have found the time and energy to make your contribution.

Our Association is a somewhat different organisation from its former self 20 to 30 years ago. Many families have two working parents, and many children are more technologically capable than their parents. The makeup of our Committee reflect these changes – we now have more women and younger members on our Committee, as it is important for our Association to have their contribution.

This is your Association. If you feel you can contribute, please give me a call.

I wish you a happy and prosperous 2008 year.

Join us at the following upcoming events:

- Chinese New Year Dinner at the Nanking Palace Restaurant on Sat 9 Feb @ 7pm.
- Chinese New Year picnic at Brighton Domain on Sun 10 Feb @ 12pm.
- Easter Tournament in Auckland from Friday 21 to Tues 25 March.

Further details of these events are in this newsletter. See you there.

会长报告

大家新年好

2007 年是我們協會非常繁忙的一年，在執委會全體委員，尤其是青年支委會委員的努力工作下，我們成功地舉辦了復活節運動大會和許多其它的活動。

我們協會具有一個強大的、充滿活力的執委會。它屬下有大樓支委會、會刊支委會、社交支委會、兒童支委會、青年支委會和老年人支委會。該領導結構是在我們的前任會長、現任主席徐穎德 Peter Sew Hoy 的領導下建立的。

我在此特別要歡迎那些剛剛加入我們兒童支委會的委員們。我們很高興地看到您們，作為孩子們的家長，能夠抽出時間和精力投身到支委會的工作中來。

跟 20-30 年前相比，我們的協會與其前身多少有點不同：比如說，目前大多數都是雙職工的家庭；孩子們也比他們的父母輩更有能力。從我們協會的人員結構中也可以看出這種變化-我們執委會

現在有更多的婦女和年輕委員，他們在協會中所到了重要的作用。

這是您們大家的組織，假如您想在我們的協會工作，請來電告知。

祝願大家在 2008 年快樂，心想事成。同時也希望大家能夠參加如下的活動：

- 二月九日晚上七點在南京飯店的迎新春晚餐。
- 二月十日中午十二點在 Brighton Domain 的迎新春野餐會。
- 三月二十一日至二十五日在奧克蘭的復活節運動大會。

就有關這些活動的詳細事宜，請參看本期會刊。

期望與您們在這些活動中相會。

CHINESE NEW YEAR

Chinese New Year, also known as the Spring Festival, starts at the beginning of spring in China. It occurs somewhere between January 30 and February 20. Each Chinese year is represented by a repeated cycle of 12 animals: the rat, ox, tiger, hare or rabbit, dragon, snake, horse, ram, monkey, rooster, dog and pig. Chinese New Year is China's biggest holiday.

board games or watching TV programs dedicated to the New Year's celebration. Lights in the house are kept on during the whole night. At midnight, the sky is lit up by fireworks which symbolize the sending out of the old year and the welcoming in of the new year. People open all the windows and doors in the house in order to let the old year go out.

As part of the Chinese New Year celebration, people buy presents, decorations, special foods and new clothing.

Days before the New Year celebration, Chinese families are busy giving their home a thorough cleaning. It is believed the cleaning sweeps away bad luck and makes the house ready for good luck to enter. All brooms and dust pans are put away on New Year's Eve so good luck cannot be swept away.

In many homes, doors and windowpanes get a new coat of red paint. The home is decorated with paper-cuts and poems called couplets of "happiness", "wealth", "longevity" and "satisfactory marriage with children".

The New Year's Eve supper is a feast with all the members of the family getting together. One popular food is "jiaozi" which are dumplings boiled in water. After dinner, the whole family stays up all night playing cards,

Very early the next morning, children greet their parents and receive their New Year present. They get lucky red envelopes with money inside. The rest of the first day of the New Year is spent visiting relatives, friends and neighbors.

The Festival of the Lanterns begins fifteen days after New Year's Day. It is celebrated with lantern shows and folk dances. Children display their lanterns in a night time parade. This is when the Chinese people welcome the first full moon of the new year. A typical food is "Tang Yuan"...dumplings made of sweet rice rolled into balls and stuffed with either sweet or spicy fillings.

Chinese New Year customs vary from place to place in China because China is a big country geographically, demographically and ethnically. But the spirit underlying the diverse celebrations of the New Year is the same: a sincere wish of peace and happiness for family members and friends.

THE YEAR OF THE RAT, 2008

February 7, 2008 - January 25, 2009

The Year of the Rat: 1912, 1924, 1936, 1948, 1960, 1972, 1984, 1996, 2008

In Chinese, the Rat is respected and considered a courageous, enterprising person. They are clever and bright, sociable and family-minded. They are imaginative, charming, and truly generous to the person they love. They have broad interests and strong ability in adapting to the environment and able to react adequately to any changes. They work hard to achieve their goals, acquire possessions and are likely to be perfectionists. They are basically thrifty with money. Their ambitions are big and they are usually very successful.

A Rat Year is a time of hard work, activity, and renewal. This is a good year to begin a new job, get married, launch a product or make a fresh start. Ventures begun now may not yield fast returns, but opportunities will come for people who are well prepared and resourceful. The best way for you to succeed is to be patient, let things develop slowly, and make the most of every opening you can find.

THE BEIJING NATIONAL STADIUM - THE BIRD'S NEST

The Beijing National Stadium, also known as the Bird's Nest because of its nest-like skeletal structure, is a stadium that is being built in Beijing for the Summer Olympics which start on 8th August 2008. It will be the venue for the Opening and Closing ceremonies and will host the main track and field events and the soccer finals.

In 2002, Government officials engaged architects worldwide in a design competition. Pritzker Prize-winning Swiss architects Jacques Herzog and Pierre de Meuron collaborated with Arup Sport and China Architecture Design & Research Group to win the competition.

The stadium will seat as many as 100,000 spectators during the Olympics, but this will be reduced to 80,000 after the games.

The stadium is 330 metres long by 220 metres wide, and is 69.2 metres tall. The 250,000 square metre (gross floor area) stadium is to be built with 36 km of unwrapped steel, with a combined weight of 45,000 tonnes. The exterior "nest-like" appearance is caused by bands of steel stretching every which way to resemble a bird's nest which enclose the stadium. The stadium will cost up to 3.5 billion Yuan (~423 million USD)

The ground was broken in December 2003 and construction started in March 2004. Work was halted by the high construction cost in August 2004. The idea of the retractable roof was abandoned for economic and safety reasons. Construction was then resumed in late December 2004. It is due to be completed in March 2008.

THE DUNEDIN CHINESE GARDEN

Friends of the Garden and Volunteers

Our Garden

The Dunedin Chinese Garden is an example of a late Ming, early Ching Dynasty Scholar's Garden, surrounded by a four-metre perimeter wall.

The Dunedin Chinese Garden uses authentic Chinese materials crafted by a team of artisans/craftsmen from Dunedin's sister city of Shanghai.

In addition to the hand-made wooden buildings the Garden features 380,000 hand-made tiles, bricks and latticework and granite paving stones, which have been hand-finished.

In particular the use of "lake stone"- 900 tonnes of it – represents an essential element of Chinese art from since the Tang Dynasty (600 -900 AD).

History

The Dunedin Chinese Garden was first proposed at the time of the city's sesqui-centennial celebrations in 1998.

The Chinese community established the Dunedin Chinese Gardens Trust, which has since guided this project.

A significant aspect in delivering this facility has been the partnership with the Shanghai Municipal Government and the Shanghai Museum.

Present

The Dunedin Chinese Garden, while currently under construction, is due for completion in May 2008. The Dunedin Chinese Gardens Trust is building the Garden which upon completion will be handed over to the Dunedin City Council. Its operation will then become a partnership between the Trust and the Dunedin City Council. To this end a Friends of the Chinese Garden group under the Dunedin Chinese Gardens Trust is being formed.

The Friends will foster a greater enjoyment by those who wish to be associated with and help the Garden and to provide support in advice and volunteer help.

Friends and Volunteers

The Trust is proposing to develop a Friends of the Chinese Garden group to assist in the Garden's ongoing future.

This will provide people with an opportunity to show an interest in this authentic Chinese garden and to assist by way of practical volunteer help.

There will be a small staff to manage and operate the Garden but it is proposed they will be assisted by volunteers.

Volunteers will be used as greeters, tour guides and special events hosts. Training will be provided for these roles as well as free car-parking while engaged in Garden activities.

The extra benefits of being a Friend of the Garden and/or a volunteer have yet to be finalized.

At this stage we are seeking people interested in offering themselves for such roles.

CHINESE NUMEROLOGY

Janice Sew Hoy

Number	Homonymy (sounds like)	Number	Homonymy (sounds like)
1	Unity	6	Profitable
2	Easy	7	Certainty
3	Liveliness, alive	8	Prosperous
4	Death	9	Longevity, enough
5	Nothing, no

The Chinese have always had a deep interest in numerology. For them, numbers are not only for calculations, they have a magical quality of their own, in the sense that they can affect human life and destiny in some way.

Often numbers are assessed on homonymy or their sound.

One stands for “unity.”

Two has the same sound as “easy” (易) in Cantonese, so it is a sought after number.

Three stands for “liveliness” or “alive” (生) in Cantonese.

Four sounds the same as “death” (死) in Cantonese. Character wise, 4 is written as though the sun is being obscured by a cloud, so pictorially it stands for a cloudy day and bad luck.

Five sounds the same as “nothing” or “no” (无).

Six is also very auspicious, not only because it has the same sound as “profitable” (流) in Cantonese but also because 6 is twice 3 and 3 is a lucky primary number since it takes a minimum of 3 points to create a geometrical shape.

Seven has the same sound as “certainty” or “for sure” (确).

Eight is considered an auspicious number because it sounds the same as “prosperous” (发) in Cantonese.

Nine stands for “longevity” or “enough” (久). However since 9 is the biggest number it implies the onset of decline, therefore combination numbers like 39, 69 and 89, while they sound good, imply overdevelopment. For the same reason 999 is not a desirable number because the only way for it to go is down, in the sense that the follow up number is 1000 and the beginning of a new cycle – starting all over again. In the past, 9 is reserved for the Emperor and ordinary people are not allowed to use the number. The doors to the imperial palace are all decorated with (9x9) 81 brass knobs to signify the majesty of the Emperor. We know from history what happened to all Emperors, they got overthrown in the end. So unless you have a good ego and a strong desire for constant renewal, do not choose 9, 99 or 999.

Number combinations:

Any numbers that start with 1,2,3,6 and 8 or a combination of these will always sound lucky. To achieve a feeling of health and prosperity you can choose numbers from these combinations and you cannot go wrong.

In business, where the aim is to grow and make a profit, the three digit numbers like 328 and 888 are very popular with the Chinese because they sound the same as “business will easily prosper” and “thrice prosperous”. Generally three digit numbers are preferred over two or four digits.

Often, 2 is put in front of the other lucky numbers to make it seem easily achievable. For example the numbers 23, 26, 28 and 29 are desirable because they have the same sound as “easily growing”, “easily profitable”, “easily prosperous” and “easily enough” in Cantonese respectively. For the same reason, try to avoid putting a 2 in front of other unlucky sounding numbers like 4 (death or dying). The number 24 is considered unlucky homonymy wise, because it sounds the same as “easily dying” and 2424 is a very unlucky number indeed.

The Chinese do not like to have a house or a car with the number 4 or a combination like 14 “must die”, 24 “easily dying”, 44 “dying and dead” and 74 “surely dead”.

It is best to accompany the number 5 with the unlucky 4 and not the lucky 8. Number 54 sounds like “not dying” i.e. “shall live forever and will not die”. Number 58 sounds like “not prosperous” in Cantonese.

Number 7 goes well with 2 and 8, 72 and 78 sound the same as “certainly easy” and “prosperous for sure” respectively in Cantonese. Again, try to avoid putting a 7 next to unlucky numbers like 4. Number 74 sounds the same as “dead for sure” and is considered unlucky.
